FLOODS SWEEP COLORADO CITIES

Hundreds Perish in Devastated Region of Pueblo

Denver, (Colo.)—Pueblo has experienced the worst flood in its history. The water of the Arkansas and the Fountain rivers sweeping over the city of Pueblo brought death and destruction. In their wake was left a city of desolation.

Two days later, when Pueblo was beginning to recover from the first terrible disaster, the Skagway reservoir, between Florence and Victor, suddenly gave way and within an hour the swollen torrent of the Arkansas river had again inundated the low-lying sections of the city.

Again, later the Platte river overflowed its banks and flooded blocks of the west side residential district. Policemen were sent to the flooded area to assist residents in moving out of their homes. Refugees from Pueblo say that while the property loss and the number of dead may be overestimated, hundreds have been lost who will never be found. They are buried in deep mud and wreckage or washed by the rapid stream far south.

Pueblo, (Colo.)—Pueblo is now recovering from the disastrous flood, which took a heavy toll of lives and caused a property loss of from $15,000,000 to $30,000,000.

Danger of pestilence is passed, according to officials of the United States Public Health Service; there is plenty of food; shelter has been provided in a refugee camp to remove the congestion in churches, schools and private homes, and an army of men has been at work clearing the streets of debris, removing dead animals and clearing out the stores and other business places.

Partial resumption of railway service between here and Colorado Springs made possible transportation of food supplies and troops into the city. No general resumption of railway service, however, will be possible for weeks, railroad officials said. Permission has been obtained to carry the Denver and Rio Grande railroad's tracks through mineral Palace Park temporarily from the point where approximately 500 yards of track dropped into the Fountain river.

SPAN SAN FRANCISCO BAY

Proposed Bay Bridge to Be of Bascule Type.

San Francisco—San Francisco's proposed bridge across the bay, first plans of which are being discussed, is to be of the bascule type, and the terminals will be south of Hunters Point across to the Alameda side.

Definite locations of the terminals have not been announced by A. J. Rich, local financier, who promoted the plan. Rich announced that he has $25,000,000 available for the project.

It is expected that the bridge will have only one deck, but it will be wide enough to handle train, street car, auto and pedestrian traffic, with walls between each track.

Selection of the Hunters Point site for the terminal on this side of the bay is necessary to keep the cost of the bridge down to a minimum, persons intimate with the plans say.

A bridge to Goat Island and across to Oakland would cost nearly $100,000,000, it is said. The bridge planned now will cost only $25,000,000.

The Hunters Point terminal will also automatically develop thousands of acres of industrial and tide lands in that vicinity, it is contended.

According to the completed plans the bridge will be built within four years of the time work is started. It will be operated on the toll plan, with cities on either side of the bay able to take over control at any time.

Work will be started on the bridge, Rich said today, as soon as government permits are secured for construction of the bridge terminals.

TONG WAR IN FRESNO

Fresno—Two Chinese men were stabbed and probably fatally wounded here in what the police said was a tong outbreak. A third Chinese was stabbed and a fourth was shot a short time after. Police reserves here rushed to Chinatown. All of the wounded are members of the Hop Suey Tong. Their assailants were said to be members of the Bing Kong Tong.

A fifth Chinese has been shot: he also was a member of the Hop Suey Tong.

TURKS MASSACRE CHRISTIANS

London—It is reported from Constantinople that new frightful massacres of Christians have occurred at Samsun and Trebizond, on the Black sea coast of Armenia.

An order maintaining the five-cent street car fare for Los Angeles was handed down by the Railroad Commission when the Los Angeles Electric Railway Company was forbidden to establish the zone system in Los Angeles and denied the privilege of charging for transfers. The five-cent fare, however, will only apply when passengers purchase tickets calling for ten rides.

GOVERNOR SIGNS IMPORTANT BILLS

Approves Measures in Aid of Agricultural Industry

Sacramento—Various bills pertaining to agriculture were signed last week by Governor Stephens. Included in the list was A. B. 1126, by Bernard, known as the California warehouse act, which provides the machinery for making the grain standardization law effective and regulates the bulk handling of grain in conformity with the United States warehouse act. It carries an appropriation of $25,000.

Senate bill 98, by Rigdon, also approved, provided for the prevention of tuberculosis in cattle. It is known as the "Tuberculosis Free Area Bill."

Other bills approved are:

Senate bill 204, by Jones, which, places the county horticultural commissioners of California under the direction of State Director of Agriculture in the enforcement of quarantine and standardization laws, and any other laws which may deal with intercounty movements of commodities, which are of vital interest to the agricultural industry of the State.

It also authorizes the appointment of more than one deputy horticultural commissioner in counties where the work is of such volume as to require it. Failure of any horticultural commissioner to perform the duties, as directed by the State Director of Agriculture, will constitute "neglect of duty," and the commissioner may be summoned before the trial board created to handle such cases.

Senate bill 6, by Rigdon, known as the pure seed bill, requires a truthful statement of the contents of seed containers of five pounds or more on the label.

Senate bill 7, appropriates $15,000 for a seed-testing laboratory to aid in enforcing Senate bill No. 6.

Senate bill 153, known as the California grain standardization act, is a new law, defining all grains, in conformity, with the United States grain standards act, and is approved by Federal authorities, growers, shippers and buyers of grain. It provides that the Federal grain standards shall automatically become effective.

Assembly bill 340, by Cleary, amends the political code section relating to the duties of horticultural commissioners. Provides for more effective method of enforcing liens against property that has been cleaned by the horticultural commissioners.

Among the bills signe by the Governor were Assembly bills 574 and 836, which provide respectively for separate schools for Japanese and for the supervision of Japanese and other foreign language schools by the State Superintendent of Public Instruction.

Another measure of great importance to the farmers of the State, which was signed among the last batch of bills was Senate bill 981, appropriating an additional $450,000 for the support of the college of agriculture of the University of California. This will give the college of agriculture a total of $2,450,000 for the next two years.

Only three road bills carrying large appropriations were signed by the Governor. One, Assembly bill No. 896, appropriates $70,000 for the construction of a highway from Alturas, Modoc county, to the Nevada State line, via Cedarville.

Assembly bill No. 482 appropriates $350,000 for the construction of a highway from El Centro to Yuma, Ariz. The third road bill was Assembly bill No. 551, which appropriates $30,000 for a road from Madera to the boundary of Yosemite National Park.

Careless and negligent administration by the board of directors of the First National Bank of Newman caused that institution's failure, according to a suit filed in the United States District Court last week by Henry P. Hilliard, receiver, who seeks more han $1,000,000 from members of the board to cover the bank's shortages.

DUNCAN-PARKER

Popular Campbell Young Lady Weds

One of Campbell's best known, young ladies, Miss Marion Duncan, became the bride of Mr. Edwin Parker Thursday afternoon.

The wedding was one of the charming out-of-door occasions for which California is so well adapted. A large pepper tree shading the lawn, with the flower garden bordering one side and vine-draped house making a back ground, furnished a beautiful setting for the ceremony. Both porch and house were decorated profusely with hanging baskets and bowls of sweet peas.

The Rev. G. E. Atkinson of Ceres, under whose pastorate Miss Duncan grew to young ladyhood, read the ring service, the wedding party having advanced from the house to the strains of the Lohengrin March played by Mrs. Emily Gard.

Margaret Carter, niece of the bride, and Ruthie Townsend, the former dainty in pink and white and the latter in blue and white, led the way, scattering rose petals.

Miss Alice Duncan and Miss Elizabeth Duncan, charming in gowns of pale green and orchid shade of organdy and carrying bouquets of varigated sweet peas, were accompanied by Harold Townsend and John Duncan, Jr.

The bride was escorted by her father, who gave her into the care of the groom. She was charming in a gown of white satin with over drape of georgette and silver and wore a veil caught with orange blossoms. She carried a cluster bouquet of white sweet peas and pink carnations with ribbon streamers.

During the reception which followed light refreshments were served.

Misses Emily and Alice Duncan shared honors in catching the bride's bouquet which she threw from the upper balcony to the young ladies assembled on the lawn.

The happy couple left immediately for a honeymoon, their destination being unannounced. Later they will be at home at Crockett where the groom is connected with the California-Hawaiian sugar refinery.

The quantities of beautiful and artistic gifts which were showered upon the bride bore evidence of the many devoted friends and fond relatives who were glad to have a share in outfitting the new home and the good wishes of the entire community will accompany them to their new home.

PRUNES ARE MOVING

The Geo. E. Hyde Co. shipped out the last lot of 1919 prunes this week which probably cleans up the association 1919 crop. Most of these latest shipments have been very small sizes and are being taken by Germany which country was the principal pre-war user of California's small prunes. The Plant 1 of the association is practically cleaned up on all prunes and the house will be put in readiness to receive the dried apricots, the earliest crop to be harvested.

With the available supply of former crops well out of the way the demand for this year's crop should be on the rise.

CLUB CLOSES VERY SUCCESSFUL YEAR

The regular meeting of the Home and School Club took place Tuesday afternoon, June 7th, President Mrs. Baldwin in charge.

A short program was first given by the pupils of the Grammar school who rendered some songs which showed marked ability on the part of their instructors, Miss Mace and Mrs. Helen Davis.

Mrs. Miller next gave a most interesting talk on "The Campfire Girls" and it is hoped that we can soon start a club of this kind.

As this was the last meeting of the year, the final reports were then made by secretary, Mrs. Merrill. Over $300 has been raised by the club and expended in a way which was a credit to all concerned and $72 still remains in the treasury.

A five minute recess was taken in which to gain new members and 14 were added to the list making 62 in all.

Mrs. Osborn represented the club at the State Convention held in Oakland in May. She made a splendid report of what took place there and said Campbell ranked well among the first in regards to work accomplished by a small club.

Mrs. Knowles' report on work done to organize a Kindergarden was a credit to her and it will not be her fault if it is not established.

The following officers were elected for the coming year:

President, Mrs. Baldwin; vice-president, Mrs. Alison; secretary, Miss Mary Fablinger; treasurer, Mrs. W. I. Merrill.

The club has planned a reception for teachers of the Grammar school on Tuesday evening June 14th, which all members and their husbands are urged to attend. A fine program and good social time is promised.

All business having been transacted, the meeting adjourned. Refreshments were served and a social hour was enjoyed by all.

The farmers of the state should be deeply interested in hearings that are to be held at Davis and Berkeley the end of this month. The proposition is: Shall the agricultural department of the State University be moved to Davis and the entire agricultural school be united there, or shall it be divided, as it is at present? The university authorities want the technical and the practical separated as they are now, while the farming community, so far as heard from, wants them both at the same time, and practically apply what they theoretically learn.

Lawrence Gardella of Oroville, who has operated two gold dredges on Clear creek, three miles south of Redding, for several years, has contracted with the American Gold Dredging Company to purchase 310 acres of auriferous land directly west of his own ground for $75,000, or $240 an acre.

ALL CALIFORNIANS, organizedly and individually, can well put a sturdy shoulder to the wheel to make successful the California Rice Day campaign, culminating June 11, the day proclaimed by the Governor in behalf of this none too well known California product. The drive is achieving two worthy ends; increasing the consumpton—now trivial on a per capita basis—of a vegetable "high in nutrition and low in cost," thus serving the public health and saving its purse, and simultaneously, furthering a great industry of the State.

Within less than ten years a hundred odd thousand acres of what was virtually valueless pasturage have been converted into bounteously yielding land. Not only the Sacramento Valley, the heart of the industry, but the State entire has a very real interest in the virility of the rice business, for it represents a crop that has added $20,000,000 to the California crop census, not considering the incidental but no less tangible factors connected with the the handling of it.

So we are glad to add our concurrence to the plea that has been issued: "Buy five pounds of California Rice June 11."

LIGHT UP. A very timely suggestion has been made by some of our prominent booster friends who have the welfare of our youth at heart. They have discussed, and it is worthy of further discussion, the subject of erecting arc lights at the tennis courts to enable the young people to play tennis in the evenings. There are also several business men that might be given an opportunity to enjoy the sport if the day were made longer. Talk it up and see what can be accomplished along this line.

CURRANT BUSHES IN ORCHARD

Ground Occupied Should Be Restricted to One or Two Rows to Prevent Interference.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

When interplanted in cherry orchards gooseberries and currants may be left for several years, according to the growth of the orchard and the size of the bushes; and in apple and pear orchards they may be left somewhat longer, though the ground occupied should be restricted to one or two rows of bushes through the center of the space between the tree rows. Otherwise, the bushes will be likely to interfere with the proper care of the trees. In vineyards the currants and gooseberries are often made a part of the permanent plantation, but while they are commonly productive when so grown, the grapes are likely to be rather unproductive.

MANURE FOR SMALL FRUITS

Large Amount of Plant Food Is Required by Currants and Gooseberries—Apply in Fall.

Currants and gooseberries require large amounts of plantfood and as the feeding roots are shallow and do not extend far, it must be readily available and close at hand. Thorough cultivation and manuring are important. Stable manure is the best fertilizer and it is difficult to apply too much in growing these fruits.

Young plantations need not be fertilized heavily, but after the plants begin to bear fruit heavy annual dressings of well-rotted manure should be applied, preferably in the fall or winter, to keep them in good productive condition.

Commercial fertilizers may be used to supplement stable manures. Muriate or sulphate of potash applied at the rate of 100 to 200 pounds per acre sometimes increases the production and quality of the fruit. If necessary to depend upon commercial fertilizers as a source of plantfood, one containing 3 per cent available nitrogen, 10 per cent available phosphoric acid and 4 per cent available potash applied at the rate of 500 to 1,000 pounds per acre, is recommended. However, in using commercial fertilizers it should be remembered that they add only the mineral elements to the soil, and it is therefore necessary to employ the use of stable manure, or cover crops, each year to maintain a good supply of humus which is highly important in growing these fruits.—Michigan Experiment station.

PRESS COMMENT ON PHILIPPINES

The Philippines!
(Shenandoah (Ia.) Post.)

Our idea of the Philippine question is to get out as quickly as possible and stay out. What do you say?

Our Little Brown Cousins
(Argus, Rock Island, Ill.)

There is no mistaking that Filipinos want their independence. And it is just possible, as they insist, that they in the islands, better than we Americans over here, are the best judges of whether they are fitted for independence. The United States wants no outburst in the Philippines as England faces in Ireland. The easiest way to head off a rebellion is to give the islands their independence before they have cause to rebel.

Shall We Let Philippines Go?
(Cedar Rapids (Ia.) Republican.)

The United States cannot continue to hold the Philippines unless this nation wants to give the lie to its own professions in the matter. The United States must keep faith with the world. The American people do not want the Philippine Islands to become their Irish question.

Filipinos Are Making Headway
(Mt. Vernon (O.) Republican-News)

The Filipinos are making an intensive and intelligent campaign for independence. They are urging their claims with shrewdness and vigor. They declare that they have proven beyond question that they are capable of self-government, and they believe that with independence the Filipino will so conduct himself as to gain the respect of the world.

LEGION MEN IN HOSPITALS

One-Third Ex-Service Boys In Institutions Are Members of the Great Organization.

One-third of the ex-service men who are confined in hospitals in thirty-two states are members of the American Legion, according to Gerald J. Murphy, director of the Legion's service division, who bases his report on figures compiled in a national census of disabled men taken by the Legion.

"With one-third of the disabled veterans enrolled in the Legion, against one-fifth of the other eligible ex-service men, it is shown that the disabled man realizes the results the Legion has obtained in its campaign for justice for the sick and wounded of the World war", Mr. Murphy declared. "The disabled man has not joined the Legion for the selfish purpose of obtaining his own compensation, for the Legion service is extended to veterans, regardless of Legion membership.

"Although the principal effort of the Legion is to aid the sick and wounded veteran, national and state legislation, Americanism work and many other projects beneficial to all ex-service men are being accomplished by the organization. These movements are expected to result in a greater percentage of Legion members among those who left the service without physical handicaps."

Differ on Christ's Birthday

THE early Christmas were divided as to the date on which the nativity of Christ should be celebrated. Some of these celebrated it on the first or sixth of January, other groups observed September 29 and still another March 29. As early as the fourth century, however, the period of the new year had been generally accepted as the time for celebrating Christ's birth. The Western branch of the church observed December 25 and the Eastern church January 6. Finally it was decided that all should celebrate December 25. Pope Julius I., who presided in the first half of the fourth century, is credited with having set the date.

A TEST OF FAITH

(Chattanooga News.)

We have frequent occasion to protest against the efforts of Japan to impose her dominion upon unwilling peoples, yet we have thus far failed to exemplify the ideals which we recommend to Japan. If we should withdraw our sovereignty from the Philippines, in accordance with our repeated promises, we could the more consistently ask Japan to follow a similar course toward Shantung, Manchuria and Siberia. Our plea would have a great deal more force if we could make it with clean hands. To say that the Philippines are not ready for independence is merely to express an arbitrary, gratuitous opinion. It is perfectly easy to create conditions—in one's own mind—that no people ever could comply with. Our delay about respecting our own pledge is a reflection on our national good faith and a constant invitation to international complications in the far east.

INDEPENDENCE OF PHILIPPINES

(Atascadero (Cal.) News.)

. . . The Philippines should be given absolute independence, which is their natural right, even if we are well aware that they have not yet reached the full stature of Americanism. We ourselves have not reached it so long as we insist upon governing other peoples against their will.

Alone in his cabin on the schooner H. D. Bendixsen, Captain Nick Rosich, master of sailing vessels fo thirty years plying out of San Francisco was found dead. Death was the result of a complication of disorders from which the veteran navigator had been a sufferer for the last year.

Fortune Telling by Bones.

It is strange that in the Transvaal the belief in Kaffir doctors and their wizardry has not died out. Nearly every old Kaffir has always with him a bag of bones—knuckles and joints of animals. With these he pretends to be able to foretell the future. He throws the "dolos," as they are called, and then reads out the omens. Should a white man wish to confer with the oracle, he must throw the bones himself. Many white men firmly believe in the ability of the Kaffir doctor to cure them from sundry ills, and in Rhodesia there have been many cases where the Kaffir doctors have saved whites from the ravages of the terrible fevers that rage there, in addition to coping successfully with toothache and other ills.
